What is SoulCollage®?

Jung noted that by taking a thing apart, getting to know the parts intimately, and then letting the parts come back together, transformation occurs. In like manner, our many pieces of soul can be consciously and imaginatively collaged into a new and more vital oneness. This is what we are about in the process called SoulCollage® which was created by Seena Frost. We select (or are selected by) images that are numinous to us personally and collage them onto a card. Later we can work mindfully with the images just as we would a dream. This is a powerful way of letting what is hidden within our depths bubble up from the personal or collective unconscious. The images on our cards can help us recognize and retain vital parts of ourselves. They can challenge, surprise, and even horrify, but now we can understand and integrate them into our whole psyche. This will be an experiential workshop where you will make your own cards and learn how to give them a voice. All supplies necessary to make cards will be supplied. You can find out more about the SoulCollage® process at www.soulcollage.com
